

What does that mean?

By

Márcia Mateus

Email:
marcia.a.mateus@gmail.com

INT. CONNOR AND ALEXIA'S BEDROOM - NIGHT

ALEXIA, 30s, good figure, an insightful woman, opens her eyes. Right by her side is lain CONNOR, 30s, a reliable person. They are both half naked. Alexia runs her eyes over the room. A neat but simple room. There are pictures of the couple but not much furniture. The room is especially decorated with flowers and lighted candles. We can guess that they were celebrating a special occasion. Alexia sets her eyes on Connor. He sleeps peacefully. She looks miserable. Connor opens his eyes slowly. He looks at Alexia for a moment without saying anything.

CONNOR
Don't do this?

ALEXIA
What?

CONNOR
Don't look so miserable after sex.
It tortures me.

Alexia doesn't say a word. She gets up and sits on the edge of the bed instead. She looks around and finally decides to get up. Connor remains lain on the bed. Alexia starts putting out the candles.

CONNOR (CONT'D)
What are you doing?

Connor gets out of the bed too.

ALEXIA
All the candles, the flowers and valentine's day...is not what I need.

Connor gets closer and stands right in front of her.

CONNOR
(Tenderly)
What do you need?

He hugs her and kisses her. She consents the kiss but pushes him away after a short moment.

CONNOR (CONT'D)
(Desperate)
Just...tell me. Please.
(Pause)
I love you.
(Pause again)
(MORE)

(CONTINUED)

CONNOR (CONT'D) (cont'd)
...Love me.

They face each other. CU of Connor's eyes. He is desolated.

CU of Alexia's eyes. She is suffering too.

A moment of silence.

ALEXIA
(As looking at Connor's eyeball)
What does that mean?
(Pause)
What does it mean?

FADE TO BLACK.

THE END